BOOKS OF THE DAY

BIBLIOGRAPHIES ON VITAL SUBJECTS OF THE TIMES BEING COMPILED

The war is bringing new problems to us all and the library is no exception. Mrs. Danford, city librarian, is using all her resourcefulness to fill the overwhelming demand for war books, books on gardening and domestic science. In selecting new books dealing with the war she is using her best judgment to purchase those that will be of the most value to the library and the readers not only for today but for the years to come.

Books on practical gardening are being selected that will be a vital addition to this class of books already on the shelves. Books on vegetable growing are being especially considered since they are so much in demand.

Lists of war books, books on home gardening as well as those dealing with the care of domestic animals such as poultry raising, care of rabbits and goats and bee culture and books on all phases of domestic economy are being compiled. The latter include meatless and wheatless recipes, the use of new flours, food values, canning and preserving, all sorts of economical recipes and every phase of domestic economy applicable to present conditions.

These lists may be referred to at the desk. In this way the reader can determine in a moment whether or not he can secure the material he is looking for.

It is the custom of Mrs. Danford to prepare these bibliographies on any subject of special interest and they have always been a much-appreciated convenience to the readers. Just now when we must conserve everything, including time, and when books on these subjects of vital interest are so much in demand, they will be more than ever of great value.

RED CROSS NOTES

Work is going forward as usual in the Red Cross work room on Brand boulevard and the quarters are also being used as headquarters for the workers in the Red Cross Drive, who gather there to check over their accounts.

Monday Mrs. A. A. Burchfield was in charge of the surgical dressings department when 67 five-yard rolls were made and 82 4x4 sponges. Ladies who attended the classes were Mesdames R. P. Jodon, Addie E. Allison, Anna Jenkins, Blanche Nunn, C. Farnham, C. E. Case, C. H. Challis, C. N. Erling, W. T. Knox, W. M. Kimball, Mamie Horton, Ezra T. Hartley, O. T. Walker, J. M. Ray, Mary E. Chester, Lee Kaster, M. G. Musser, A. D. Switzer.

Tuesday Mrs. Meta Hearnshaw was the instructor and under her direction 45 five-yard rolls were manufactured. The list of workers included Mesdames S. Houdyshel, W. W. Hamilton, W. W. Stamps, E. S. Hedges, M. E. Miller, S. C. Steele, C. B. Wilde, R. S. Dunkee, T. H. Addison, O. L. Okhausen, Mrs. Albert C. Read, C. L. Bullard, C. C. Tucker

SHOWER AND DINNER

Miss Aileen Preeman was again a guest of honor Monday afternoon when she was the recipient of a linen shower at the home of Miss Frances Peckham, who was assisted by her mother in entertaining. The shower was followed by a three-course dinner served at a beautifully appointed table centered with white carnations and greenery. Plates were laid for eighteen, the guest list including, besides the special guest: Misses Winifred Jones, Helen MacMullin, Margaret Gregg, Ardis Heisler, Cecilia Lyons, Ernestine Lyons, Helen Harden, Lila Shea, Frae Morse, Lefa Siple, Gladys Brunson, Essie Jane and Daphne Burlingham. Later the girls were joined by "the boys" and had a jolly evening with music and dancing, furnished by L. S. Brown, who played the piano, and Miss Essie Jane, who sang.

PICNIC REUNION

A delightful family reunion at a beach picnic party took place at Hermosa Beach, at which twenty-seven relatives were present. From this city went Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Todd and their daughter Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Craig and their little daughter Mary Pauline, W. A. Hough, Miss Gladys Hamilton and Miss Amy Miller. The dinner spread upon the sand was such a sumptuous one that the men of the party were frightened for fear they would fall under the Hoover ban, so as a propitiation they took up a substantial collection which was delivered to the Glendale Red Cross Chapter Tuesday.

THE NATION'S LOVE

FOR HER SONS EXPRESSED BY RED CROSS SAYS FATHER O'NEILL

Father O'Neill announced last Sunday that Joseph Scott would address the congregation after the 10:30 service next Sunday.

It is unusual for a layman to speak in a Catholic Church, but Mr. Scott's mission is relative to organizing a Council of the Knights of Columbus in Glendale.

Father O'Neill urged his people most earnestly to contribute generously to the Red Cross Drive during the week. He said in part:

"This war in some of its aspects is a profound humiliation for the race. It has shown that in face of all our vaunted progress and enlightenment, the civilized man, the superman, under false teachers and false rulers may prove that under a thin veneer he is still at heart little better than the original savage, that to him the progress of science means but more effective methods for slaying his fellowman by wholesale; that good faith and loyalty to one's sworn word is but a scrap of paper; that the doctrine of right is might is a motto only for the weak and the cowardly; that the true principle of justice is that might is right, that the law of the jungle is still the wisest policy for the rulers of nations.

"But this world-struggle fortunately has brought forth in contrast with these horrors, another wonder which proclaims against these degradations the truth that God, the God of law and pity, has made man to His own image and likeness; and that protest in all its spacious world-wise affirmation is the Red Cross.

"I shall not pause to outline even briefly the splendid record of the Red Cross Societies of France and England from the very beginning of the war; of the money given unstintedly by both these countries to supply all the things that money could provide; and all the aid that surgical and medical science can command and that tenderness could administer to assist the maimed and wounded, as they returned after having done their duty on most horrible battlefields.

"Beyond all comparison with gold and silver was the noble devotion of the thousands of men and women, of all ages and classes, who consecrated their lives to the work of mercy, behind the firing line, in the transportation trains, automobiles and at the hospitals; and of the hundreds of thousands more who, unable to render immediate personal service to the sufferers, energetically gave their labor and their means to the work of organization and to swelling up the enormous quantities of commodities called for by the needs of the situation. Suffice to say, the army of Red Cross helpers, in every field, proved themselves worthy kin of the heroes who died at Liege, in the retreat from Mons, and among the hills and valleys that surround unconquered and unconquerable Verdun.

"In no spirit of boasting or vanity we can say that, great as have been the sacrifices and services of the Red Cross in England and France, more was expected from great, rich, generous America—and America has surpassed the most extravagant expectations. Even before German arrogance and outrage had goaded us into the war, the American Red Cross Society was in France with men and women and money, aiding the wounded, furnishing and runnig hospitals, providing transportation, feeding,

DEATH OF THOMAS CAMPBELL STEM

Another sudden death has brought sorrow to a Glendale home. Tuesday afternoon Thomas Campbell Stem suddenly expired at 4:30 at his home at 524 South Louise street. He had been in ill health for several years and had suffered much pain from neuritis. He had walked to the business section and back and died almost immediately after his return. His step-daughter, Mrs. R. P. Jodon, with whom he and Mrs. Stem had made their home, was alone with him and it has been a great shock and grief to her, as he was as dear to her and to his other step-children as though he had been their own father. His wife was in South Pasadena visiting his only daughter, Mrs. C. J. Pearson. Others who mourn his loss are E. L. Dayhoff and Dr. Minnie Reel of Santa Maria, his step-children. Mr. Stem was a veteran of the Civil War and was for a time commander of the post at Santa Maria.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. Clifford A. Cole will be held Thursday at 2:30 o'clock at the Christian hurch, the Jewel City Undertaking Co. in charge.

GERMANS SEE END OF WAR NEAR

BELIEVE THEY WILL SECURE GOOD TERMS—PRISONERS INSIST THAT HINDENBURG IS DEAD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

(By William Philip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent)

ON THE BRITISH FRONT, May 22.—German troops and civilians believe the war will end this year in a draw, Germany securing good peace terms, according to prisoners. These prisoners repeat the rumor that Hindenburg is dead and has been dead for some time. The allies discredit this rumor. French and Belgian civilians are still forced to work on the battlefields behind the German line. There is no infantry activity and very light artillery fire on this front.

TODAY'S LUNCHEON

SANITARIUM BAND PLAYS PATRIOTIC MUSIC—SANITARIUM NURSES WAIT ON TABLES

The luncheon served today (Wednesday) at the Masonic Temple to workers in the Red Cross Drive was somewhat out of the usual order in that it was prepared by chefs of the Glendale Sanitarium and served by ladies of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church in the costume of Red Cross nurses. During the dinner music was furnished by the Sanitarium band directed by C. H. Jones, who wisely selected such patriotic melodies as "Over There," "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and others equally popular. The menu furnished a demonstration of the excellent meatless meals which the Sanitarium is serving. It included: vegetable broth, Golden State salad, baked pot pie and new peas, mashed potatoes, beets in lemon, prune whip, victory bread and butter.

The speaker of the day was Rev. Vernon H. Cowsert, pastor of the Glendale Baptist Church.

Mr. Cowsert opened by stating that his experience as a canvasser for the Red Cross on Tuesday had convinced him that our people have so far waked up that they no longer need urging but only an opportunity to give, that he was refused by none whom he canvassed.

He recited many reasons why we should support the Red Cross, first because it originated in a heart of compassion and the brutalizing effects of this war are such that if there were no organization of the kind in existence, the necessities of the case would demand it.

It should also be supported in his opinion because it purposely ignores racial prejudice in succoring the needs of humanity. President Wilson uttered a great thought in inaugurating this drive, which Mr. Cowsert quoted, viz.: "This last year in which our country has been at war has done more to solidify and unite all the people of the different nationalities in this country than one hundred years of peace could possibly have accomplished."

He emphasized the necessity of treating in a kindly way our German fellow citizens who bear names which necessarily place them under suspicion, but who nevertheless have demonstrated some of the finest hundred per cent Americanism.

Another reason mentioned for supporting the Red Cross is because it goes where the need is and though oceans may roll between the supply and the need, the strong arm of the Red Cross is at once applied and the need met. Another reason is that it overcomes seemingly insurmountable obstacles in supplying the need. The philanthropy costs more than it otherwise would, because of the peculiar type of need it has undertaken to meet.

His next point was that it adapts itself to a great variety of needs as they arise. While it started out primarily to do one thing, it is now carrying on 27 different branches of work.

He referred to Florence Nightingale in England, to Dorothea Dix and Mother Bickerdike in this country, whose work was the fore-runner of the Red Cross and its inspiration. He also paid tribute to Clara Barton and to Henry Donant of Switzerland, who were the first to get a vision of cooperation between nations in such work.

"We should be inspired to support the Red Cross by the helpfulness

ELKS EXTEND INVITATION

Roy L. Kent, who is a member of the Glendale Elks Lodge, Number 1289, was present at the Red Cross War Drive luncheon at the Masonic Temple Tuesday, and in behalf of the Elks' Club he extended an invitation to the members of the committees of the Red Cross War Drive (250 in number) to assemble at the Elks' building Saturday evening for the purpose of checking up the weeks' work. A motion prevailed to accept the invitation so cordially given by Mr. Kent.

COURT MATTERS

City Recorder Lowe this morning (Thursday) imposed a fine of $40 on E. F. Oberdick, whom he found guilty of personal assault against R. J. McUmber at the hearing of the case Tuesday morning.

William Blanchard of 405 West Ninth street, whose license to conduct a dairy was revoked some time ago, was arrested this morning on a charge of stealing hay and pasturing cows on the premises of other people. His case will be heard before Judge Lowe Thursday morning.

MEETS TRAGIC DEATH

MARK JOHNSON IS VICTIM OF DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT AT EL MONTE CROSSING

Mark Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Johnson of 226 Cypress avenue, met a tragic death Tuesday. In partnership with his brother, Herbert Earl Johnson, he has been engaged in a wholesale produce business and has lately specialized in potatoes. While crossing tracks at El Monte in the course of business, his truck was struck by a Southern Pacific train and he was so badly injured that he died an hour later. He was unmarried and was the mainstay and comfort of his parents, with whom he lived. His mother is almost prostrated with grief. The family have been residents of the Tropico district for about eight years and are much respected. The brothers have built up a thriving business in that time and have many business friends and neighbors who will sincerely mourn the death of this fine young man who had such a promising future. The remains were taken to the undertaking parlors of Scovern, Letton and Frey, where an inquest will be held Thursday morning.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at the Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park at 10:30 o'clock, which will be conducted by officials of the Elks' Lodge, of which the deceased was a member.

MASONS ENLIST FOR WAR WORK

A special meeting called by officials of Glendale Commandery No. 53, Knights Templar, was held Monday evening at the Masonic Temple for the purpose of organizing war work committees. Nothing else was considered at the gathering, which was solely for the purpose of securing a working force within the Masonic Order in this city to be responsible for promoting war activities. Plans were considered and those present pledged themselves as Knights Templar Masons of Glendale to do everything possible to further all war work. Committees were appointed which were designated as "War Works Committees," and each was assigned to special tasks. Ezra F. Parker was made chairman for Red Cross work, F. H. Vesper for Liberty Loans, O. E. Von Oven for Y. M. C. A. work, George U. Moyse for Thrift Stamps. A committee of three was appointed for entertainments, consisting of Thomas Ogg, Robert Grumbling and Dr. Roy V. Hogue.

These patriotic Knights and Masons feel that the work they are undertaking to do will help a great deal in the right direction. It will not be Masonic war work, but simply war work done by Masons.

DEATH OF COLBERT EYRAUD

Little Colbert Eyraud, who distinguished himself by carrying off the first prize for miniature floats with a floral battleship last Saturday at the Red Cross Carnival, is dead. He passed away about eleven o'clock Tuesday morning at Thornycroft Hospital, where he was taken almost immediately after the prize was given him. Lockjaw was the cause of death, occasioned by an injury he received about two weeks ago from a rusty garden tool which had healed and about which no anxiety was felt until he became acutely ill Saturday.

He was the son of Mrs. Irma Eyraud, a widow, residing in Ross court, this city, and was the youngest of five children. He has been attending the Cerritos avenue school and had an excellent record there and many friends among his classmates. Funeral services, conducted by Father O'Neill, will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park Thursday at 3 o'clock, which will be in charge of Scovern, Letton & Frey.

McOMBER-THEDE

Friends of Miss Blanche Thede and Maynard McOmber were very much surprised when they announced Sunday that they were married and had been successful in keeping the news for nearly four months. The young couple eloped to San Bernardino on January 30, with only the groom's sister, Miss Margaret McOmber, accompanying them, and were made husband and wife. Last Sunday just before leaving on a short honeymoon trip to Long Beach they made the announcement and have been receiving the congratulations of their friends.

Mr. McOmber is engaged in work at the shipyards. They have not decided where they will make their home.

SECOND RED CROSS WAR FUND CAMPAIGN

If anyone who reads this could stand in a receiving hospital in France on the day after a great battle and watch the wounded being carried in; if he could understand what sufferings are and how great an alleviation even a little care may bring, he probably would not rest or sleep until he had done everything that lay within his power to help them. It is because we do not realize all that battles mean that we are able to go about our business at home as unconcernedly as we do.

But the work of caring for the wounded has to be done and can not be done without our aid. This is Red Cross week. A contribution to the Red Cross is just as truly a help to the sick or wounded soldier, the disheartened refugee, the tubercular French or Belgian child, or the homesick American soldier, just back from a siege in the trenches, as though we had lent a hand to carry in a stretcher under fire, had tied the tourniquet to staunch the flow of blood, or had provided the hot soup, the warm bath, and the clean clothing that bring back hope and good cheer.

The American Red Cross is the delegate in Europe of the American ideal of neighborliness. Through it the good will of America reaches out to its own soldiers across the seas and to others who need our help. It is the healing and saving influence that follows in the wake of the war, the faithful messenger of mothers' love, the good Samaritan. When we give we must not imagine that we are merely filling the coffers of an organization. What we are really doing is to save the life or soothe the pain of our own sons and brothers, or those of our neighbors. It is little that we can give in comparison with what they have given, yet our little is essential.

President Wilson has named this Red Cross week. The whole machinery of that vast organization—hospitals, ambulance units, infirmaries, canteens, rest stations, refugee relief work—needs our dollars if it is to continue in motion. Every home in America should carry in its window the red badge of membership.

YOUR WAR AND MY WAR

Perry Weidner of Los Angeles, who addressed an assembly at the High School Tuesday morning, made an excellent impression on the boys and girls, who voted his speech one of the best of the many good talks they have heard. He addressed them as "Young Patriots," and said that more was expected of them than of a little older growth upon whom the brunt of battle is coming. The war is being fought for this generation, he said, that the men and women of the future may be freed from the domination of autocracy. "It is your war and my war," said he, "and a war for every red-blooded soul that is living today. Every war that has been fought heretofore has brought some uplift to mankind, but no other war has so involved the welfare of all the peoples of the world." He also said that Abraham Lincoln would always be an outstanding figure in history exceeding all others because he was the first exponent of democracy. The world has had great generals who have won its admiration, but there has been but one Abraham Lincoln who has stood as the champion of the rights of the people.

Apathy he considered the most dangerous trait of our day. Every citizen, he declared, should exercise his privilege and express himself at the polls. If he fails to do it he is, in Mr. Weidner's opinion, almost as much of an enemy of democracy as though he were a Hun.

MITE BOX MEETING

The annual mite box opening of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church will be held in the church parlors tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A most unique and unusual program has been prepared and light refreshments will be served. This is the social afternoon of the year and every one is cordially invited. Let every member be present to welcome the guests. Mrs. M. M. Northrup of Pasadena will be a special guest.

CLUB CONFERENCE

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of this city, president of the District Federation of Women's Clubs, reports that the last District Conference will take place at the usual headquarters in Los Angeles Thursday beginning at ten o'clock, when the usual parliamentary drill will take place. From eleven to twelve a musical program in charge of Bessie Bartlett Frankel, district chairman of music, will be given. It will be followed by a brief address by Dr. Dana Bartlett, who will speak on "Community Thrift." Following the luncheon Mrs. William H. Bowden, Chairman of Art, will tell of what Art Commissions have accomplished in other cities. The address of the afternoon will be given by Miss Lloy Galpin, teacher of Political Science in Los Angeles High, who will speak on International Relations. Mrs. Jones pronounces her a splendid speaker, well informed on her subject, which is one which Americans will be called upon to seriously consider from now on. All club women are invited and urged to attend the conference.

FRENCH RELIEF

Donations of food and clothing continued to come to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce the latter part of last week, after the big shipment had left Tuesday for the French Relief headquarters in Los Angeles.

Some one who did not give his name very generously left about 75 pounds of dried peaches, for which I wish to express my sincere gratitude.

Wednesday, the 22nd, Robinson Bros. have kindly offered transportation to 224 South Hill street, where all donations not yet turned in will be gladly received.

Thank you, one and all, especially my committee, for the good work done in Glendale.

which it extends in every direction and in all lands," he declared, "and to none more than to those who support it, for its greatest blessing is in awakening the world to human need." He expressed his belief that the people at home who support the Red Cross with their "silver bullets" are just as effective in their way as are those who cross the water to shoot iron bullets in the war zone, because it has dwindled to a contest between the Red Cross of democracy and helpful sympathy and the Iron Cross of autocracy and hate. We must side either with the Allies or with "all lies." To show that the enemy clearly recognizes the issue, Mr. Cowsert referred to a book in his possession which recites 101 lies which the German propagandists have circulated in this country and of which over fifty per cent pertain to the Red Cross. "This matter has come especially close to us," he said, "since reports have begun to reach us of the treatment American prisoners have received from their German captors." He then recited one instance taken from a New York paper.

In closing he referred to General Pershing's pathetic salute at the grave of La Fayette when he said, "La Fayette, we have come." "A greater than La Fayette has reminded this world of his identity with all who suffer in his great parable of the nation," Mr. Cowsert continued. "To those who neglected to supply the need He said: 'I was hungry and ye gave me no meat; I was thirsty and ye gave me no drink; I was sick and ye did not visit me; I was in prison and ye did not minister unto me.' This great Red Cross organization finding its first source in that loving heart which thus beat for humanity, is undertaking to send back to Him a similar salute: 'Thou Son of Humanity and Son of God, we have come.'"

PATRIOTIC CONCERT NOTES

The manager of the patriotic concert given last Monday evening in the High School wishes to express sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who so ably and generously assisted in making it a success. All the artists donated their services and the Glendale public was indeed fortunate in having such an aggregation of talent in their midst. Special mention should be made of the excellent work done by the accompanist, Miss Gertrude Champlain, who played for Mrs. Shank and Mrs. Norman, Miss McLashan, for the whistler, Marie Louise Hand, and Mrs. Carl Jacobsen, the accompanist of the Pacific Mutual Glee Club. She plays all their accompaniments entirely from memory and in perfect accord. (It may be of interest to those who heard the Glee Club to know that they sang every noon and every evening for the last Liberty Loan Drive and that early in June they are making a concert tour to the Yosemite.

This week the "Girls' Glee Club" of the Pacific Mutual is singing the famous "Knitting Song" every evening at Clune's Auditorium before the performance of "My Four Years in Germany.")

The piano used at the concert was kindly furnished by the Glendale Music Co. and Freeman Kelley loaned the handsome palms and floral Red Cross.

The returns of the concert are not definitely known yet, as the ticket money is not all collected, but Herman Nelson, the treasurer, hopes to make a statement and division the latter part of the week.

After the concert the performers and their friends were entertained by the Tea Committee of the British Ambulance Society and assistants in the cafeteria of the High School, the guests being escorted thither by Tom Hamilton in full Highland regalia, playing the bagpipes, and the party broke up at a late hour with several impromptu selections from the Men's Glee Club, who were all in high spirits and pleased with Glendale's reception of them.

BRITISH AMBULANCE TEA

Next Monday afternoon in the Jewel City Cafe the fifth in the series of national teas will be given by the Tea Committee of the British Ambulance Society. Canada is holding sway this time and Mrs. W. S. Rattray and Mrs. F. L. Kinnear are hostesses in chief. They will be assisted by Mrs. Alec Mitchell and daughters, and several others whose names are not definitely known as yet. A delightful program will be presented by the Pearl Keller Shcool of Dancing and Miss Lulu Lanterman will sing "The Maple Leaf Forever" and other selections. Several attractive Canadian features are being planned and a large attendance is anticipated.

The English tea receipts were $22, the Australian $33, and Canada is aiming at $44. Why not?

In regard to the following teas to be given during the year, the following announcement is made: The next one after the Canadian will be an American tea. Mrs. Menzo Williams and Mrs. John C. Sherer hostesses. This will take place the second Monday in June. Then comes France, Belgium, Russia, Japan and Poland.

Anyone who is interested in helping these entertainments is earnestly requested to send in his name to the chairman, Miss Ina Whitaker, 208 West Ninth street, Tel. 586-J.

Personals

Our attention has been called to the fact that the American flag has been conspicuous by its absence and that the National Anthem has not been sung at the noon luncheons during Red Cross week.

Headquarters for the War Comforts Work which has been carried on by Christian Scientists in this city have been established at 1077 Broadway and will be open from 9 to 4 each day.

The Jolly Thirteen Club has been reorganized under a new name. Its members are to be entertained this afternoon by Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw of 1458 Lomita avenue and will sew for the Red Cross.

Mrs. Blake Franklin, chairman of the committee of ladies from the Glendale Congregational Church who served the Red Cross luncheon at the Masonic Temple Tuesday, reports that $24.50 was realized in money, of which one half was given to the Congregational Church, the balance to the Glendale Red Cross Chapter.

The athletic department of Glendale Union High is depressed, but will recover. Yesterday afternoon its crack ball team played against Huntington Park's team on the Manual Arts High School field and lost by a score of 4 to 1. The team has been making a splendid record and hoped to secure another championship banner for the school, but it must not expect to win all the time.

A RUG CIRCLE

Mrs. P. Wells, who is one of the committee managers of the Conservation Department of the Junior Red Cross, states that she is seriously considering the inauguration of a Rug Circle which will make use of the rags brought in by the salvage drives which are not good enough to be utilized as garments. The work will be done in the sewing room recently secured at 1005 Broadway and one afternoon a week will be devoted to this specialty. She is anxious to get in touch with all ladies who have had experience in the making of woven, braided, crocheted or knitted rugs, or what are termed "hooked rugs," and all such are requested to communicate with her by telephone, Glendale 467-M. She feels that by this industry more money can be realized than if the rags were sold as "wipers."

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Miss Anabel McClellan was hostess Tuesday evening at an exceedingly pretty dinner party given in celebration of the eighteenth birthday of Miss Jane Snyder, the guest of honor. It took place at eight o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClellan, 318 South Central avenue, Mrs. J. H. Orth assisting Mrs. McClellan in the serving of a delicious dinner of several courses. The table was centered with very beautiful pink roses, which furnished the color note, carried on in pink streamers and in the basket favors tied with roses. Covers were laid for Jane Snyder, Edna Burson, Louise Gonzales, Norma Lorbeer, Eilzabeth Allen, Marcella Orth, Anabel McClellan, Milton Brown, Warren Meeker, Dolliver Webb, Paul Smith, Fred Wilson, Cecil Percy, Walter Beach. Following the dinner, a very happy evening was spent by the young people with music and games.

THE NEWS BROUGHT HIM

R. M. Lawrence and family arrived in Glendale Tuesday morning from Ripon, Wis. Mr. Lawrence at once secured furnished rooms in the California apartments and is now enjoying the beautiful scenery in and about Glendale, this being his first visit to Southern California. Some months ago Mr. Lawrence, becoming tired of the cold winters in the middle west, decided to make his future home in California and with that objetc in view he subscribed for representative local papers published in cities on the Pacific slope, one of these papers being the Glendale Evening News. Mr. Lawrence states that he received so many good impressions of Glendale from what he read in the Evening News that he decided this city would be the preferable place for him to locate. He expresses himself as being very well satisfied with his choice and says everything here far exceeds his expectations. The people of Glendale will extend the hand of welcome to Mr. Lawrence and his family and see to it that they feel at home here at once.

LIBERTY SOCIAL

All members and friends of the Presbyterian church are invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Peterson, 570 West Broadway, Thursday evening from 8 to 10. Fine program. Silver offering for Ladies' Aid Liberty Bond.

clothing and housing refugees and destitutes, mothering thousands of orphan children, not to speak of providing meals for a million French soldiers every month as they returned from the trenches.

"And when the Red Cross appealed for help to the American people, you know the answer the country gave. To the amazement of our Allies, the immense sum of one hundred millions was raised in a week or so by voluntary contributions. Our dismayed enemy who held us up to scorn as a sordid nation, whose only God was the dollar, pretended to disparage this undeniable evidence that the whole country was heart and soul in the struggle to the end for democracy and human liberty. The enemy said that the sum, if it was raised at all, was raised by a handful of millionaires, who were making enormous profits from the war. Just, we may say, as the Kaiser and his still intact family are drawing great dividends as partners in the great Krupp munitions factories.

"But the contributors to the Red Cross fund were no handful—they numbered over twenty millions of men, women and children, a number greater than the entire population of the United States in the beginning.

"I can not presume to weary you by offering you long strings of figures as a detailed proof of the activities carried on by the Red Cross both at home here for the soldiers, in the camp, for the transports crossing the ocean and for our soldiers ahead over there—yet long pages of statistics alone can convey an adequate account of that immense work.

"It is giving immeasurable assistance to our Government itself. More than any other enterprise or achievement that men have ever carried out. It has won for America the admiration and respect of the civilized world. It has gained for us the prayers of devastated Belgium and the love of undaunted France. More than even our Government itself, the Red Cross is looked upon by our European allies as the index of the American people's heart. An illustration of what I say: When the Italian armies were driven back into Italy, to the Piave, where they made a desperate but what they expected to be a merely temporary stand before they should have to retreat much further, all Italian hope was turned to America. 'Will the Americans come?' Unfortunately it was impossible for our armies then to lend assistance, but the American Red Cross came. The Italians shook off their despondency. 'America,' they said, 'is with us—for here is the American Red Cross.'

"Incidentally, the work of the Red Cross is bringing a blessing to ourselves, for it is powerfully working to bring together citizens of every creed and thereby eradicating the baleful curse of religious bigotry, Catholics and non-Catholics, Jews and others of every shade of belief or of no belief at all, linked heart and soul together in the nation's work, are coming to understand and respect one another as they had not hitherto.

"I may mention an incident that concerns ourselves. Inadvertently, through some editorial inattention, recently a poem of Kipling's containing a disrespectful reference to our Holy Father, the Pope, crept into the Red Cross Magazine. When their attention was drawn to the matter, the managers of the Red Cross Association made the most ample apology, expressed profound regret for the mistake and praised our patriotism in the strongest terms. Furthermore, at the request of the head of the Red Cross, Henry D. White, formerly ambassador to Russia and a very distinguished man, called personally, representing the Society, on Cardinal Gibbons to explain and apologize for the accident and to present the profound thanks of the Society for the magnificent assistance rendered by Catholics to the Red Cross.

"In conclusion I may, I am sure, express your and my own convictions that as the struggle deepens and our armies deploy on the battle lines, the Red Cross will, with ever-increasing love and devotion, act as the faithful agent of the nation's love for her sons who are offering their lives for America."

The Library is doing its bit in the display of government posters and the distribution of food bulletins.

There is at present on display a very convincing map showing "Why Germany wants peace." Making plain as it does how Germany at the present time has control of 233,000,000 people, we realize that any talk of peace on her part just now is only a part of the war game, and not deserving of a moment's consideration by the Allies.

RED CROSS SHOP

Mrs. Jack Boettner, chairman of the Red Cross Shop at 318 South Brand boulevard, says she has been offered some fine singing canaries, but has no cage to place them in. She wonders if some benevolent friend of the Red Cross will loan or give the shop a cage. She also states that the usual business lunch will be served at the Shop Thursday noon.

Think what the spectacle of cheerful giving means to the enemy.

ANCHORS LABOR

The American Beet Sugar Company, following out its policy of providing homes for its employes at the Oxnard beet sugar plant, has purchased twenty-six acres just west of the factory between Sixth street and the Wooley road, on which it will erect at once twenty bungalows costing from $2000 to $2500 each, for men employed at the plant. Recently the company erected a large number of adobe cottages which are given rent free to Mexican laborers employed in the beet fields. This had such a potent effect in stabilizing the labor situation that the company decided to provide homes for all its employes.

WHAT YOUR RED CROSS MONEY DOES

IN the first place, it enables the American people through the Red Cross, to help care for its army and navy.

Secondly, it enables America to hearten her Allies' fighting forces and to keep up, among the civilian populations, the spirit to win the war. That, alone, has made the American Red Cross one of the largest factors since our entry into the war.

Canteens which provided food and hot drinks—more than a million meals to soldiers in December; warehouses, crammed with materials, situated all along the French line, all along the Italian lines, at seaports, and at places where our soldiers are going to fight; institutions for the care of consumptives, institutions for the re-education of maimed men—these are a few of the concrete accomplishments abroad.

At home—the millions of woolen sweaters, mufflers, socks and other comforts for the men in camps; the work of sanitation around cantonments and the help and advice given dependents of soldiers and sailors—these are things which will "make you, your children and your children's children, in whatever part of the world they may be, proud of being Americans."

WILL YOU DO YOUR SHARE TO KEEP THIS HAND OF MERCY AT ITS WORK?

Every cent of every dollar received for the Red Cross War Fund goes for War Relief.

The American Red Cross is the largest and most efficient organization for the relief of suffering that the World has ever seen.

It is made up almost entirely of volunteer workers, the higher executives being without exception men accustomed to large affairs, who are in almost all cases giving their services without pay.

It is supported entirely by its membership fees and by voluntary contributions.

It is today bringing relief to suffering humanity, both military and civil, in every War-torn allied country.

It plans to help the work of restoration throughout the world.

It feeds and clothes entire populations in times of great calamity.

It is there to help your soldier boy in his time of need.

With its thousands of workers, its tremendous stores and smooth-running transportation facilities, it is serving as America's advance guard —and thus helping to win the war.

Congress authorizes it.

President Wilson heads it.

The War Department audits its accounts.

Your Army, your Navy and your Allies enthusiastically endorse it.

Twenty-two million Americans have joined it.
